IRWIN CASE ON TONIGHT

The trial of the habeas corpus proceedings of Lelia Irwin and husband better known as the Black Hand Case in which Mr. and Mrs. Irwin seek to have their bond reduced, was stopped at the adjournment of court Monday evening and, owing to the pre-arranged court calendar, cannot be taken up again until this evening, when a night session will be held to finish the hearing.

Some interesting things have come out of the trial that were not made public. On the same day that Mrs. Irwin received a letter telling her to get the $3,000 packages of E. B. Leepy and Emanuel Mendelson, a Black Hand letter was received by Mrs. Leepy, telling her to go and secure $3,000 packages of money to be deposited by D. K. Fitzhugh and B. D. Oldham. Mrs. Leepy was told in the letter to get this money and deposit it in the bank, or suffer the death of her husband. She did not obey the instructions.

Since Mr. and Mrs. Irwin have been taken to Portales and locked in jail Messrs Leepy, Mendelson, Fitzhugh and Oldham have received other letters from the Black Hand telling them to help get Mrs. Irwin and her husband out of jail, as they are not guilty. The letters were mailed at Clovis.

There are many other interesting developments in the case and the complications seem to thicken as the trial proceeds.

WILL ORGANIZE COMPANY OF MILITIA MONDAY.

Captain M. S. Murray has received a letter from Adjutant General R. A. Ford, of the New Mexico National Guard, authorizing him to proceed in the organization of a company of militia to take the place of the Roswell Signal Corps. The letter states that Captain Murray's commission will be forwarded in a few days. The new company will be "B" and will take its regular place in the National Guard of the Territory.

In accordance with this letter Captain Murray has called a meeting of all young men over the age of eighteen and suitable for military service to be held at the Armory next Monday night at 7:30 for the purpose of forming the new company. He is proceeding at once toward organization as he wants to get his men in condition for the annual encampment of the territorial militia, which will take place at Las Vegas on July 15. He says he will have a company of about 58 men in readiness for the trip if the territorial officials do their part in providing equipment.

Captain Murray states that the company will be a strictly military organization. Discipline will be taught along with the other necessary branches of such a body. While the boys will be treated with kindness, the strict rules of army discipline will be enforced. A high standard will be followed throughout.

Remember Slocum Horror.

New York, June 15.—In memory of 1,031 persons, mostly women and children, who perished in the terrible disaster of June 15, 1904, the Organization of the General Slocum Survivors held impressive ceremonies today, the fifth anniversary of the burning of the steamship in the East River with a Sunday school excursion party on board.

The memorial services were rendered doubly pathetic by the absence of one of the survivors of the Slocum horror, young Peter Theodore Braun, who died recently at Allentown, N. J. Mental agony due to the memories of the day of terror was the cause of the boy's death it was said and his pitiful case brought tears to the eyes of many when it was recounted at today's gathering of the more fortunate survivors.

Before the burning of the Slocum on June 15th, 1904, young Braun, a member of the ill-fated Sunday school picnic party that was destroyed, was a healthy, athletic school boy of fourteen, handy with a bat and a school nine pitcher hard to get hits off.

But in the hour of torture in the East River he used up all that was in him for the rest of his life, as he tried to save his mother and three small sisters who had jumped with him from the burning boat. After he had seen them go down one after the other, he himself was pulled into a row boat and brought ashore.

Although he recovered physically from his burns and from the exhaustion in the river the boy never recovered from the memories of it. Although not derailed he became a victim of his sorrows by day and of his dreams of horrors by night, always dreams of shrieking women and burning and drowning children.

There was no more baseball for this boy. On the contrary, he shunned his companions because he was always pointed out by them as a Slocum survivor. So pronounced did the boy's aversion become toward anything or anybody that could recall his losses that the boy's father finally moved from his home in this city to Allentown.

But the change did not have the desired result. With each succeeding summer and approaching anniversary of the disaster young Braun's grief became more intense and unbearable. This year he broke down under it completely and died. The physicians could do nothing for him. His father said that death was due to grief and memory.

MRS. CLEVELAND TESTIFIES IN BRANDENBURG CASE.

New York, June 15.—Mrs. Frances Folsom Cleveland, widow of the late President Cleveland, was a witness today in the criminal proceedings against Broughton Brandenburg, accused of selling to a newspaper, an article alleged to have been written by Cleveland, but pronounced to be spurious by the widow. The morning was spent in getting a jury and Mrs. Cleveland spent the time waiting in the Judge's office.

The jury was completed before noon and assistant district attorney Knott for the prosecution related the incidents leading up to the arrest of Brandenburg. He declared the false signature to the article had great weight on political questions at a critical time, did much damage and the perpetrator did a great wrong.

The attorney for Brandenburg moved to dismiss the action on the ground that the facts as set forth did not constitute grand larceny but the court overruled this.

Mrs. Cleveland was placed on the stand this afternoon and the alleged signature of her late husband was pronounced by her to be false.
